"THE LEWIS MAGNETIC CORSET"

IS SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

It is mechanically constructed upon scientific principles, symmetrical in shape and unique in design. Each section of the corset is so formed as to maintain the vertical lines of the body, and really conforms to the figure of the wearer. It is stayed with strips of highly tempered spring ribbon steel, which is superior to any other boning material owing to its flexibility, smoothness and durability.

Each steel (or stay) is nickel-plated, highly polished and guaranteed not to corrode, metal tipped to prevent the ends from cutting through the fabric, and electro magnetized, thereby transmuting a mild galvanic current through the body, strengthening the nerves, assisting the action of the heart and imparting additional vigor and energy to both body and mind.

The steel (or stays) are incased in separate pockets and can be removed or replaced at pleasure through the openings near the top of the corset, and are so distributed as to afford the necessary support to the spine, chest and abdomen, while at the same time so pliable that they yield readily to every movement of the body, thus assuring constant comfort to the wearer.

These corsets are made by experienced operators, from superior fabric, carefully examined by experts, and guaranteed not to break or roll up like inferior makes.

Ladies who, after giving them a fair trial, should not feel perfectly satisfied, can return them to the merchant from whom they were purchased and have their money refunded.

See that the name "Lewis' Magnetic Corset" is stamped on each pair, without which none are genuine.

Manufactured only by the CROMPTON CORSET CO.,
78 York Street, Toronto, Ontario.

ROBBERY AND MURDER.

Two Wandering Italian Musicians Rob and Murder a Companion at Grenfell—The Murderers Arrested.

It will be remembered that nearly a month ago, three wandering Italians passed through the town. One of them was a scissor grinder and the other two were musicians, one playing a species of bagpipes and the other a clarinet or some kindred instrument. They stated that they had come from the east and were going to the World's Fair. The strangers "did" the town and proceeded on their way east.

Last Thursday the body of a foreigner was found near Grenfell covered with railway ties and some brush. His skull had been smashed with some blunt instrument and the remains looked as though they had been dragged for some distance along the ground. The body had evidently been there for some days, as the face and head had decayed and only the bones remained.

The corpse was the remains of a man of 45 years. A pack was found of his back.

The name of the murdered man is Giovanni Bettralla. He was unmarried and came from southern Italy.

On Monday morning the musicians arrived in Winnipeg and were arrested and placed behind the bars. Chief of Police Bell and Corporal Stillman, of Moosomin, arrived in Winnipeg on Tuesday. The prisoners were securely handcuffed and taken to Regina.

They gave as their names Antonio Dejo and Antonio Justiano. They were searched by the station officer, and on their persons were a number of letters, a pocket book, money order receipts for $240, about $45 ready cash, a big jack-knife and an ordinary 32 calibre revolver. They carried with them a limited outfit of cooking utensils. These were all taken to the police station and were handed over to the Northwest authorities.

The prisoners, without the slightest reservation, say they were in the company of the scissor grinder at Regina, and they strongly assert that they did not see him after they left the Northwest capital. On the other hand there are those who state, quite positively, that the scissor grinder was seen in their company some stations east of Regina. Before their arrest they had sent $240 to a small town in the province of Campobasso, Italy.

Blake to Return

LONDON, June 25.—It is stated that Mr. Edward Blake has intimated to the Irish leaders that he desires to resign his seat in the Imperial Parliament and return to Canada. This step, the report says, has been decided on by Mr. Blake, because he finds that his advice counts for nothing; that personal jealousies and not public interests reign supreme.

Commenting on his resolve, the Spectator says: "He is too good a man for the party."

Cayley's Courage.

GONBACH, June 28.—Mr. W. Cayley Hamilton, barrister, member of the firm of Scott, Hamilton and Robson, of Regina, N. W. T., was married to-day to Flora, second daughter of Horace Horton, M.P. The happy couple left this afternoon on a wedding tour, and will shortly proceed to their future home in the Territories.

It is expected that the result of the entrance and teachers' examinations will be published about August 1st. This will be a decided improvement on previous years.

The Lieutenant-Governorship.

OTTAWA, June 26.—Chas. H. Mackintosh, M. P., denies that he has stated that everything is settled with regard to his appointment as lieutenant-governor of the Territories. It is learned that nothing will be made known until the first minister returns from Europe although it is generally understood that Mackintosh has been appointed.

Local News.

Mr. Geo. Gagen left for the coast on Thursday's train.

The post office will be open tomorrow from 8.30 to 9.30 o'clock.

The ladies are particularly invited to the Lacrosse match tomorrow.

Grand concert July 11th in Town Hall by the Abbott-Fax combination, under the auspices of the A.O.U.W.

Mr. Fredrick Abbot and Sim Fax with their company will appear in the Town Hall on July 11th and give one of their Grand Concerts for the A. O. U. W.

Mr. Purdon's sale of household effects on Wednesday was not well attended on account of the rain.

Rev. H. E. Wise pastor of the Calgary Baptist church, will preach in Russell Hall on Sunday next.

The members of the Regina Rifle Association will not be present to compete in the target practice tomorrow owing to local sports at Regina Barracks.

Rev. Fathers DeBeau, of Regina, and St. Germain, of Wood Mountain, were in town on Wednesday and left yesterday for Wood Mountain.

Rev. H. W. Mack left for Brandon this morning to attend the Baptist Convention which meets in that city next week. He will preach in Moosomin on Sunday.

Mr. W. A. Wilson, a photographer in the employ of the Dominion Government, has been in town for some days past taking photographs of the principal places of business. The views are intended for magic lantern slides for immigration purposes. The work done is of an exceedingly high class.

The Winnipeg Commercial has issued a special supplement relating to Vancouver Island, the adjacent coast and the Northern Interior of British Columbia. The writer takes the reader on a two weeks trip about the coast. The mechanical work is remarkably well executed and reflects great credit upon the enterprising publisher.

The annual meeting of the Moose Jaw Cemetery Association was held in the town clerk's office on Friday evening. President H. McDougall in the chair. After reading of minutes and reports of Secretary and Treasurer, which were received and adopted, Mr. W. W. Nesland moved, seconded by Mr. Henry Battell, that the Board of Directors for the ensuing year be: Messrs. H. McDougall, J. W. Bradshaw, T. R. Baker, J. E. Annable and Wm. Hannah. This motion was carried. The meeting then adjourned.

As some dissatisfaction is expressed by a few of our citizens at the privilege given the Moose Jaw Brass Band of imposing a fee of 25 cents as admission to the sports tomorrow, THE TIMES is asked to state that, of course, ladies and children will be admitted free, and that there is no compulsion whatever connected with the admission fee. It was thought by the committee that the scheme would afford a simple way to recognize those who unselfishly devote their time to band practice and help to build up a band that is becoming deservedly popular. Those who do not wish to help forward their town band—need not, but it is to be hoped that no citizen will appear on the ground without the badge and thus advertise his lack of public spirit.

RESULTS OF TOIL.

Wedding Bells.

The following extract from the Almonte Gazette, will explain the recent eastern trip of Mr. T. W. Robinson's genial manager:

"About a week ago Mr. Jas. C. Hamilton arrived here from Moose Jaw, N. W. T., and on Wednesday last he took to himself a partner for life—Miss Ida G. Blake. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's mother, the nuptial knot being tied by Rev. Mr. Clowen. Mr. Jas. Smith of Ramsey was groomsmen, and Miss Rolston, of Ottawa, bridesmaid. After supper, and amid the congratulations of their numerous friends, the newly wedded couple left by the evening train for a short trip eastward. They will return to Almonte and spend a couple of days with friends here before leaving for their home in the far west. The bride received very many mementoes of the esteem in which she and her husband are held. We join the many friends in congratulations."

School Trustees Meet.

Minutes of special meeting of the Board of School Trustees held on June 25th called for the purpose of considering the estimates for 1894 and the question of holidays.

Bols—Hicks.—That the summer vacation commence 1st July and terminate six weeks hence and the winter vacation shall be one week commencing December 24th. Carried.

Birbeck—Bols.—That the Secretary notify Mayor and council that the estimated amount required from the town for school purposes will be $3000 for the next ensuing year. Carried.

Hicks—Bols.—That the secretary notify Mayor and council that the board in the addition to the amount of $400 applied for from town council will require $100 to meet teachers' salaries now due, this total amount of $1200 being required forthwith. Carried.

Meeting then adjourned.

Adrift.

Only some withered blossoms, crumbling to dry decay;
Only a glove half torn in two, and idly thrown away;
Only a heart that is broken—that is if hearts can break;
Only a man adrift for life—and all for a woman's sake.
Only a few such tokens prized by a love-sick fool;
Only the ashes that strew the ground when love's hot flame grows cool;
Not the first man by thousands the dupe of a heartless flirt;
Not the first time that priceless love was treated like common dirt.
Only is fun! I know it now, though it is rather late.
Rather too late to turn in my life and seek another fate.
I'm not a man like thousands with a heart that can veer and whirl,
And feel a glow at the glance and nod of every flirting girl.
Finished forever and ended—wrecked by a treacherous smile,
Following madly a will-o-the-wisp—happy if but for a while;
Only a heart that is broken, that is if hearts can break;
Only a man adrift for life, and all for a woman's sake.

MY STUDIES IN AMERICA.

BY KOTAI MASUDA, D. M. D.

Every morning I awoke at five o'clock and worked until nine, at which hour my lessons at the medical school began. Then I had to go there and study until six o'clock in the afternoon. Then I hurried back home to perform my duties, which took me until ten. Then I was free to study my lessons until two or three o'clock in the morning. Often have I slept in my study chair till morning, for the work was hard to a foreigner with only a few years' study of English. I found anatomy especially, very hard. I thought that work like this would end my life, but I could only hope for a happy destiny.

I spent one year in the medical department, and two years at the dental school. I studied hard to get the degree of Doctor of Dental Medicine from the university, and I also passed the examination of the state board.

During my college life I often went to a half-dime cafe, where I have found snails in the clam chowder, and bits of paper and string in the soup. Pie and doughnuts made my dinner. Often I slept on the floor, on a lounge, or in a chair.

After I graduated I stayed in Boston, and helped Dr. Libby, a friend of Dr. Nichols, in hope of making money enough to pay the expenses of my journey home, and of getting a practical knowledge from what I could observe. I have made all the observations that I could. It is a pity that our people are so ill-treated by the Europeans, making our hearts beat like the ever-rolling thunder, and our blood to leap through our veins like the streams of the Nile. I have written articles for the papers and magazines, some of which have been rejected and some accepted. Some have been sold, and some not. I have published a little essay on dentistry, and a farewell poem, in memory of Cherry E. Nichols, the little daughter of Dr. Nichols, whom I loved as my sister and my child.

One summer vacation I visited Dr. Libby's home at Wolfboro', N. H., where there is a famous village by Lake Winnepesaukee, with high, stony hills. The scenery is a magnificent panorama of the Creator's gifts, and makes Wolfboro' a delightful place for artists, sportsmen, or city people in search of rest.

I went from city to country, to flee from the hot summer's blaze. The hills are asleep, and the village seems to dream on the rocky shore. The air is soft, the water is clear, and human hearts are pure.

Since my graduation my father and brother have often asked me to return to my native land—the land of flowers and of arts. I remember that all this story of my life I saw in clairvoyant visions three years before I left Japan and also that I foresaw here three years ago the present condition of my life. My clairvoyant vision seems to foretell the future for every three years of my life. It seems that my ancient and better misfortune led to my life's happy destiny, to the acquirement of knowledge, and the formation of noble character, to the cultivation of patience to keep down my feverish heart, to find the everlasting tower of hope, and to melt fear and sorrow as the summer melts the snow. And now my spirit's hope and my heart's desire are the happy destiny of our nation, the moral government of the world, and kindness of heart in all mankind.

I am sure that Dr. Nichols and Mr. Torrey are as my father and best friend in all the world. It is a greater honor than that of priest or king to bear witness to their kind and affectionate hearts. And there are many good Samaritans elsewhere, besides these two kindest men of all.

Changeable is nature at the Creator's will; The everlasting continent can change into the sea;
And the human soul—water-like—Can be frozen or melted by a reflecting ray.

KOTAI MASUDA.

CAMEL CHIRPINGS.

On Wednesday evening a number of the Carmelites, including a number of ladies, assembled at the Carmel race-track to witness the first of the series of races between Buffalo Lake and Carmel. The evening was all that could be desired. The Buffalo Lake people turned out in full force. Owing to some misunderstanding Carmel's best runner was not present and consequently the Buffalonians had things nearly all their own way, and succeeded in carrying off nearly all the first and second places. In the pony race, however, the prize was awarded to Carmel's favorite, "May Flower."

Two accidents which might have been serious occurred during the races. Mr. Chas. Lyon was thrown from his horse but did not receive any injuries beyond a severe shaking-up. This was owing perhaps to his riding without a saddle, as he is considered a good rider. Mr. Peter Hudson while leading his pony hitched to his buggy came in contact with Ross' running horse which took fright and commenced bucking and kicking, and did considerable damage to Mr. Hudson's rig. As the accident happened close to the blacksmith shop Mr. Glover soon had it repaired.

Some of our people took a holiday recently and went to the Lake for a day's outing. Miss S. Hamlin and Mrs. J. Baye visited the west end of the Lake recently.

We are about to have our choir re-organised which no doubt will be an improvement to the service.

Thirty-Eight Pounds.

BRANTFORD, March 13.—The Courier of this week devotes a column to the case of Archie Rymal of this city, who was discharged some time ago from the hospital here as incurable, and went to his mother's home to die. He was so far gone that he could not move hand, foot or head, and could not change his position without assistance. His wife hearing of so many so-called incurable cases being cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after every other known remedy had failed, purchased a box. After taking nineteen boxes, Rymal is as well as ever, and has gained in weight from 107 to 145 pounds. This case is startling, but true.

The Aroma of Coffee

The aroma of coffee develops especially during the process of roasting; its fatty oil oxidizes, is burned, and is changed into essential oil, or caffeine a species of ether that cannot be isolated by distillation, and which we can sometimes see with the naked eye on the surface of the ordinary infusion. But coffee, like many other natural products, such as wine, tobacco, and cocoa, requires a certain length of time after being gathered before it reaches its full maturity. Experience has shown that the development of its aromatic principle is required by keeping it in a green state from one crop to another. But it is well known that for about the last half century the caffeine seems to be lacking in the infusion of coffee, which has no longer the exquisite qualities due to its aroma. If, now on one hand, we consider that the production of coffee is necessarily limited by the conditions of climate requisite for its growth, and that, on the other hand, the planter, in order to supply the demand which is constantly on the increase, is now obliged to deliver the crop as soon as it is gathered we can do nothing but infer that the cause of the degeneration of coffee lies in the fact that it is supplied to trade too soon, while it has not yet developed its constituent principles, and particularly in caffeine.
